Handwriting Practice for

This section contains eight rows of handwriting practice on blue-lined paper. Each row consists of eight pairs of cursive 'g' characters. The first pair in each row is a solid 'g' with a small arrow indicating the starting point and direction of the stroke. The second pair is a dotted 'g' with a small circle at the top and a curved arrow showing the path of the stroke. The remaining six pairs in each row are dotted 'g's for tracing. The rows are separated by horizontal blue lines, with a dashed blue line in the middle of each row to guide letter height.
